SITE LOCATION

The picture shows the area inside the building which divides the proportion of the user. For the ground floor, there is a clear area for business and restaurant. The second floor is the area for demonstrating furniture and meeting the designer. The third floor is the area for the temporary exhibition and also the connected way from Siam Center. For the fourth floor, it is the area for work shop and library material which all of it will serve only for the member of the project. Therefore, the building is divided by using the private and public usability which depend on the proportion of each floor
